win, T. V. Gilliam, Emil Halbardier, Ralph Russell, Joe Schmitt, Joe

The following cases were called and dismissed: Jas. A. Baker, receiver of

J. N. Ry. Co. vs. Tax Collector of Medina county.

Marie Ware vs. C. H. Ware, divorce.

J. C. Thompson vs. T. E. Garrett et al.

Lytle State Bank vs. D. Mondiola.

Lacoste National Bank vs. T. E. Garrett.

Tuesday morning the $100,000 damage case of W. H. Koehner vs. W. L. Koehner et al. went to trial. The selection of a jury and the taking of testimony occupied the attention of the court up to Thursday afternoon, argument by counsel beginning about 4:00 o'clock. As this case is being vigorously contested by both sides it is possible the case will not be given to the jury in time for the result to be printed in this issue of the Anvil Herald. This case is being tried before the following jury: Emil Halbardier, Fritz de Grodt, H. J. Reus, T. V. Gilliam, Martin Schmitt, Gus A. Rothe, J. S.

Whitehead, G. W. Wiemers, Oscar

W. J. Finger, Henry Faeeler, Ed. Parsons and Adolph Naegelin.

The grand jury completed its labors and were dismissed for the term Wednesday afternoon. This body returned indictments, five for felonies and one for misdemeanors. Four of the indictments returned were against the two ex-soldiers, Alex A.

Werner and Theo Niess, who have been in jail for the past several months.

The criminal docket will be called Wednesday morning.

LATER—The jury in the Walter damage case returned a verdict late Friday afternoon assessing plaintiff's damages at $50.00.

The hearing of this case at the fall term of the court resulted in a mistrial.

At the mass meeting held at the court house Thursday night for the purpose of organizing a mutual fire association, several names were added to the list for membership. The meeting being as well attended as was anticipated, on account of other meetings in town, it was decided to meet again at 7 o'clock p. m. Saturday afternoon, April 7th, 1921, to perfect the association. Be sure to be present at this meeting to assist in perfecting this needed association.

To Journey to France.

Tomorrow morning while the people of this town are quietly sleeping Father Francis Pallanche, with that simplicity which has characterized his life since coming to live among us, will depart on the journey back to the land of his birth. Father Pallanche has an aged mother living in France, and the pleasure of again seeing her in this life is the prime motive for the long trip.

The reverend gentleman planned this trip last year and had even gone so far as to secure his ticket, passport, etc., but after vainly trying to secure a berth on an ocean steamer had to finally abandon it as the congested condition of water travel, following the closing of the World War, made it impossible for him to go until after a time when he felt he could not well leave his pastoral work here. Everyone in this vicinity rejoices with Father Pallanche in the pleasure he expects to derive from this visit to the maternal roof, and he is assured of a warm welcome on his return to his work here. He expects to be absent between three and four months. While he is away Father L. Guillaume will have charge of the Catholic Church here.

The ruthless hand of the Chamber of Commerce is again in evidence. The beautiful crop of weeds that was flourishing in Public Park has been destroyed. There was not a more thriving patch of weeds in the entire county than the one that adorned the Park. They would soon have been shoulder high and when one considers their graceful waving to and fro as the gentle breezes sweep over them it makes one grieve for a familiar sight never to be witnessed again. And not satisfied with this vandalism, the same body has removed the old ramshackle fence that has enclosed the Park for years. Of course this fence was an eye sore, but it was a land mark, and we all sigh over the destruction of what has long been a familiar scene. The trees have been trimmed, the destroyed weeds raked up preparatory to their destruction and, if our people do not rise up en masse and protest, soon what was one of the most unsightly spots in the town will be transformed into one of the most beautiful. A more progressive generation seem to have taken matters into their hands in this town and if a stop is not put to their activities soon outsiders who have long visited this town will think on arriving here in future that they are lost—they will not recognize the town of their former visits if the activities of the Chamber of Commerce is not halted.

The Methodist Revival.

The revival service which began at the Methodist Church last Sunday, is gaining in interest daily. Notwithstanding this is a busy time with our people, particularly the people in the country, the attendance has been unusually good. The Rev. R. P. Waters, who is doing the preaching, is a forceful speaker, and his sermons are greatly enjoyed by those who attend the services. The music, directed by Mrs. Waters and Miss Waters, is exquisite and adds much to the attractiveness of the meeting. The services will probably continue throughout the coming week and a great spiritual awakening will undoubtedly result from the meeting.

R. C. Herring.

R. C. Herring, an old and well known citizen of Medina County, and particularly well known in the Devine section, died in the Physicians and Surgeon's Hospital, San Antonio, at 10:10 Thursday night from wounds self-inflicted. Deceased had been in failing health for some years, and the loss of several members of his family caused him to become despondent and he slashed his throat with a pocket knife severing his wind pipe. He was rushed to the hospital in San Antonio where all that was possible was done for him. He was a member of the Medina County Aid Society. Deceased was about 52 years of age. The rash act was committed at the old Josh Herring home between Biry and Devine.

"IS WONDERFUL" SAYS DISPATCHER.

Since Taking Tanlac He Eats, Sleeps and Feels Better Than In Two Years.

"I eat better, sleep better and feel better than I have in two years and Tanlac gets the credit for building me up," said R. H. Budd, well known train-dispatcher for the M. & T. Railroad, residing at 524 1-2 West Okmulgee St., Muskogee, Okla., recently.

"About two years ago I commenced going down hill, and then a year ago I was in such a low state of health that I had an operation. After this it seemed that I just couldn't get my normal weight and strength back. What little I ate bloated me all up with gas, keeping me uncomfortable for hours and did me very little, if any, good. The bloating caused my heart to flutter frightfully, and my nerves were shattered so I couldn't get the sleep I needed. I felt weak, sluggish and tired all the time.

"But when I started on Tanlac I began to straighten right up. I'm not troubled [with indigestion any more, have gained several pounds in weight and am built up in strength and vitality until I hardly feel like the same man. Tanlac has done fine work for me and I'm glad to tell others about it. My friends, who noticed how pale and weak I looked before taking Tanlac, can look at me now and see the way it has put color in my face and built me up."

Tanlac is sold in Hondo by W. H. Windrow; in Castroville by Joseph Courand & Co.; and in Dunlay by Louis A. Baby; and by all leading druggists.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

The people of this section spent a couple of very anxious days last Sunday and Monday on account of the decidedly cool weather. While the thermometer tobogganed toward the freezing point, everyone felt relieved when the cold spell passed without greater damage being done. While corn—particularly corn that had been recently cultivated—suffered severely, it was not completely destroyed and it is thought a few warm days will repair the damage, especially in the vicinity of Hondo.

Some FACTS About

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921, and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

	Produced	Delivered to Retail Customers
JANUARY	29,883	57,208
FEBRUARY	35,395	63,603
MARCH	61,886	87,221

Total Production 127,074 Total Retail Sales 208,032

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,958 Ford cars and trucks!

April requisitions already specify 107,719 additional cars and trucks, and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000!

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the dealers' limited stocks, which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have been compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, therefore, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it, you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.

Oil Development.

The bringing in of an oil field is brightening daily and there is but little doubt that the year 1921 will witness the opening up of a great field in this immediate section. After many obstacles, that would have discouraged less determined men, the Medina Oil Development Company's well is again in good shape and active drilling is again in progress a little below 1,100 feet. This well has been a favorable proposition from the first 300 feet and every geologist and practical oil man who has visited the well regards the bringing in of a good well almost beyond question. The promoters of this proposition anticipate a rich strike any day.

The Lane Taylor No. 1, on the Haegelin farm, is drilling a little below 800 feet. Great difficulty from caving has been encountered in this well, but it is now in good shape with casing all set. A very promising oil strike was made in this well a few days ago, and perforated casing has been ordered by express and a thorough test-out will be made. If the yield is satisfactory it is supposed drilling will be halted; otherwise it will be sunk to a greater depth.

The Ewell-Nalle well, on the Nixon ranch, has encountered difficulties in the way of very hard rock almost from the date of spudding in, but it is thought they will soon strike more favorable drilling conditions. This well was drilling at a little over 200 feet Monday.

A new well will be spudded in May 5th, on the Jack Fusselman tract, a mile or more distant from the Medina Oil Development Company's well. This new well is said to be a Southern Pacific railroad proposition, and it also said this company will sink several other wells in the near future. It is well known that that company has had geologists in this territory for more than a year and that a thorough geological survey has been made. The locations for the other proposed tests have not as yet been announced.

The locations of these various wells from one another makes certain a thorough exploitation of that section for oil. A large number of geologists and practical oil men have visited the section and have unanimously agreed that conditions for a big strike are extremely favorable. If nothing comes of the present tests then there is but little credence to be placed in geology or practical experience in the oil game.

Whether there is a paying strike made or not, all hats off to the optimistic gentlemen to whose persistent effort the present exploitation work is directly traceable. Should a paying strike be made the whole credit will be due to a half dozen gentlemen who have worked unceasingly to bring about conditions as they now exist, despite the fact that they have never received the undivided support of our people, to which they were justly due. Should nothing come of the present exploitation work, still our people will be ahead many hundreds of thousands of dollars received as lease payments, all traceable to the activities of the above mentioned half a dozen gentlemen.

How To Dye Hats.

That Beautiful hat of your friend's is probably an old one dyed and made new. You can easily dye your old straw hat in any color you want and give it a beautiful new glossy finish with Fidelity Straw Hat Dye, which unlike many dyes will not stiffen the hat. Sold and recommended by all druggists and in Hondo by Fly & Mercer and W. H. Windrow.

Habitual Constipation Cured in 14 to 21 Days

"LAX-FOS WITH PEPSIN" is a specially prepared Syrup Tonic-Laxative for Habitual Constipation. It relieves promptly but should be taken regularly for 14 to 21 days to induce regular action. It Stimulates and Regulates. Very Pleasant to Take. 60c per bottle.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's For One Thing Only, and Hondo People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is Hondo evidence to prove their worth.

Mrs. X. Wantz, Hondo, says: "My kidneys were disordered for some time. A dull bearing down pain appeared in my back which greatly increased until I had to give up. I couldn't stoop over or straighten up again without severe pain. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and bought some at Martin's Drug Store. From the start Doan's did me good and I gladly recommend them to others." (Statement given May 29, 1915).

On May 3, 1919, Mrs. Wantz said: "I think just as much of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I gave my former statement. I have had no occasion to use them since, for the cure they worked then has proven permanent." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wantz had. Foster—Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

LAW REQUIRED BULL BAITING

Belief at One Time Prevailed in England That the Practice Improved Quality of Beef.

As looked at in England, although bull baiting was a cruel pastime, it was also a fulfilling of the law, for formerly no butcher was allowed to offer for sale the flesh of any bull that had not been baited, the Brooklyn Eagle remarks. The goading of the bull with dogs until its fury was aroused was supposed to have some influence on the flesh. In a similar belief the flesh of a hunted hare was thought superior in flavor to one that had not been and the present of a "hunted hare" was considered to be a special compliment. In the records of the corporation of Leicester, England, the following orders appear to have been issued at a common hall held on Thursday before St. Simon and St. Jude, 1467: "No butcher to kill a bull till baited." At Winchester it was ordered "that henceforth there shall be no bulstake set before the mayor's door to bayte any bull, but only in bullrings in said city." The practice formerly was very popular in England and among those who at a later period patronized bull baiting were Windham and Parr, and even Canning and Peel opposed the passage of the law that abolished the bull-baiting.

JANITOR HAD SAME OPINION

His Own Case Clinched Argument Concerning the Need of Wisdom in Selecting Stenographers.

A young city principal took lunch with two young business men the other day. They were discussing their stenographers. She listened a while and then said jokingly, "Why, I honestly believe you men would be more particular in choosing your stenographers than you would in choosing wives."

"Of course," retorted one laughingly. "A man can't be too particular in choosing his stenographer. Doesn't he spend more of his waking hours with her than with his wife?"

That afternoon she repeated the conversation to some of her teachers. The janitor was listening and he immediately "budded into" the group. "Now, you see here, Miss T——," he said earnestly, "that young feller was right, after all. Take you and me, for instance. The superintendent wanted me to change buildings and I wouldn't. I want a good principal at my building, for I'm in her company lots more than I am ever with my wife."

In the Gallery.

The late William Dean Howells, in the days when he was a magazine editor in New York, liked to visit the Bohemian low-priced theaters, and when he went to the opera he always sat in the gallery.

"In the gallery," he said one day. "the people listened to the music intently. They don't laugh and chatter as they do downstairs. In the gallery, too, they keep their seats till the performance is over. Downstairs they put on their wraps and leave in the midst of the glorious final climax."

Mr. Howells chuckled. "The theater," he added, "is like the human body. The brains are always at the top."

SIDE APPLICATION OF FERTILIZERS

FERTILIZERS ARE CHEAP AGAIN.

Practice of Side Application Will Be Extensively Followed This Year.

Atlanta, Ga., April.—Reports received from fertilizer companies indicate that the Southern farmer fell a good deal short of using as much fertilizer at planting time this year as usual. Several reasons are assigned. One is that the farmers waited for the price of fertilizers to fall with the expectation of using them in greater quantities than the usual amount as side applications to the growing crops.

It seems that the practice of side application of fertilizers is quite commonly followed by successful Southern farmers. In fact, the Williamson method of growing corn that is popular in the coastal plains region of the South, provides that no fertilizer be applied except as side applications to the corn crop.

On the question of side applications of fertilizers, J. N. Harper, director of the Soil Improvement Committee and recognized authority on agricultural methods of the South, says, that there are more than the usual advantages this year in favor of side applications. The reason is apparently favorable to giving good response to fertilizers.

A word of caution is, however, sounded by Mr. Harper. He says that the side applications should be made early. Late applications to cotton will only prolong the growth of the plant and favor the boll weevil. He says that it will be better to make both the side applications of complete fertilizers and the nitrogen top dressing within six weeks after planting, where the boll weevil is present.

For corn, he states that side applications are quite generally made too late to get the best results. On clay loam or heavy soils he advises a side application and nitrogen dressing when the corn is from knee to waist high. For sandy or light soils, he says that side applications can be made later, that is, when the corn is waist to shoulder high, but before it begins to bunch to tassels.

Mr. Harper says that care must be taken to use only readily available forms of fertilizer so that the growing plants can utilize them in promoting rapid growth and development of fruit.

The fertilizer should contain phosphoric acid in the form of acid phosphate. This is the main element for hastening maturity. The fertilizer should also contain nitrogen and potash in the readily available form. Nitrogen promotes the growth of the stalk and leaves and potash strengthens the plant and helps fill out the fruit.

A top dressing of sulfate of ammonia or nitrate of soda is quite commonly made, and, according to Mr. Harper, it should follow closely after the second application of fertilizer, and within the periods of cotton and corn growth which he mentions above.

"IS WONDERFUL" SAYS DISPATCHER.

Since Taking Tanlac He Eats, Sleeps and Feels Better Than in Two Years.

"I eat better, sleep better and feel better than I have in two years and Tanlac gets the credit for building me up," said R. H. Budd, well known train-dispatcher for the M. & T. Railroad, residing at 524 1-2 West Okmulgee St., Muskogee, Okla., recently.

"About two years ago I commenced going down hill, and then a year ago I was in such a low state of health that I had an operation. After this it seemed that I just couldn't get my normal weight and strength back. What little I ate bloated me all up with gas, keeping me uncomfortable for hours and did me very little, if any, good. The bloating caused my heart to flutter frightfully, and my nerves were shattered so I couldn't get the sleep I needed. I felt weak, sluggish and tired all the time.

"But when I started on Tanlac I began to straighten right up. I'm not troubled [with indigestion any more, have gained several pounds in weight and am built up in strength and vitality until I hardly feel like the same man. Tanlac has done fine work for me and I'm glad to tell others about it. My friends, who noticed how pale and weak I looked before taking Tanlac, can look at me now and see the way it has put color in my face and built me up."

Tanlac is sold in Hondo by W. H. Windrow; in Castroville by Joseph Courand & Co.; and in Dunlay by Louis A. Baby; and by all leading druggists.

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC taken regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921, and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

	Produced	Delivered to Retail Customers
JANUARY	29,883	57,208
FEBRUARY	35,305	63,603
MARCH	61,886	87,221

Total Production 127,074 Total Retail Sales 208,032

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,958 Ford cars and trucks!

April requisitions already specify 107,719 additional cars and trucks, and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000!

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the dealers' limited stocks, which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have been compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, therefore, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it, you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.

Oil Development.

The bringing in of an oil field is brightening daily and there is but little doubt that the year 1921 will witness the opening up of a great field in this immediate section. After many obstacles, that would have discouraged less determined men, the Medina Oil Development Company's well is again in good shape and active drilling is again in progress a little below 1,100 feet. This well has been a favorable proposition from the first 300 feet and every geologist and practical oil man who has visited the well regards the bringing in of a good well almost beyond question. The promoters of this proposition anticipate a rich strike any day.

The Lane Taylor No. 1, on the Haegelin farm, is drilling a little below 800 feet. Great difficulty from caving has been encountered in this well, but it is now in good shape with casing all set. A very promising oil strike was made in this well a few days ago, and perforated casing has been ordered by express and a thorough test-out will be made. If the yield is satisfactory it is supposed drilling will be halted; otherwise it will be sunk to a greater depth.

The Ewell-Nalle well, on the Nixon ranch, has encountered difficulties in the way of very hard rock almost from the date of spudding in, but it is thought they will soon strike more favorable drilling conditions. This well was drilling at a little over 200 feet Monday.

A new well will be spudded in May 5th, on the Jack Fusselman tract, a mile or more distant from the Medina Oil Development Company's well. This new well is said to be a Southern Pacific railroad proposition, and it also said this company will sink several other wells in the near future. It is well known that that company has had geologists in this territory for more than a year and that a thorough geological survey has been made. The locations for the other proposed tests have not as yet been announced.

The locations of these various wells from one another makes certain a thorough exploitation of that section for oil. A large number of geologists and practical oil men have visited the section and have unanimously agreed that conditions for a big strike are extremely favorable. If nothing comes of the present tests then there is but little credence to be placed in geology or practical experience in the oil game.

Whether there is a paying strike made or not, all hats off to the optimistic gentlemen to whose persistent effort the present exploitation work is directly traceable. Should a paying strike be made the whole credit will be due to a half dozen gentlemen who have worked unceasingly to bring about conditions as they now exist, despite the fact that they have never received the undivided support of our people, to which they were justly due. Should nothing come of the present exploitation work, still our people will be ahead many hundreds of thousands of dollars received as lease payments, all traceable to the activities of the above mentioned half a dozen gentlemen.

Habitual Constipation Cured in 14 to 21 Days

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's For One Thing Only, and Hondo People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is Hondo evidence to prove their worth.

Mrs. X. Wantz, Hondo, says: "My kidneys were disordered for some time. A dull bearing down pain appeared in my back which greatly increased until I had to give up. I couldn't stoop over or straighten up again without severe pain. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and bought some at Martin's Drug Store. From the start Doan's did me good and I gladly recommend them to others." (Statement given May 29, 1915).

On May 3, 1919, Mrs. Wantz said: "I think just as much of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I gave my former statement. I have had no occasion to use them since, for the cure they worked then has proven permanent."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wantz had. Foster—Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

LAW REQUIRED BULL BAITING

Belief at One Time Prevailed in England That the Practice Improved Quality of Beef.

As looked at in England, although bull baiting was a cruel pastime, it was also a fulfilling of the law, for formerly no butcher was allowed to offer for sale the flesh of any bull that had not been baited, the Brooklyn Eagle remarks. The goading of the bull with dogs until its fury was aroused was supposed to have some influence on the flesh. In a similar belief the flesh of a hunted hare was thought superior in flavor to one that had not been and the present of a "hunted hare" was considered to be a special compliment. In the records of the corporation of Leicester, England, the following orders appear to have been issued at a common hall held on Thursday before St. Simon and St. Jude, 1467: "No butcher to kill a bull till baited." At Winchester it was ordered "that henceforth there shall be no bulstake set before the mayor's door to bayte any bull, but only in bullrings in said city." The practice formerly was very popular in England and among those who at a later period patronized bull baiting were Windham and Parr, and even Canning and Peel opposed the passage of the law that abolished the bull-baiting.

"Of course," retorted one laughingly. "A man can't be too particular in choosing his stenographer. Doesn't he spend more of his waking hours with her than with his wife?" That afternoon she repeated the conversation to some of her teachers. The janitor was listening and he immediately "budded into" the group. "Now, you see here, Miss T——," he said earnestly, "that young feller was right, after all. Take you and me, for instance. The superintendent wanted me to change buildings and I wouldn't. I want a good principal at my building, for I'm in her company lots more than I am ever with my wife."

SIDE APPLICATION OF FERTILIZERS

FERTILIZERS ARE CHEAP AGAIN.

Practice of Side Application Will Be Extensively Followed This Year.

Atlanta, Ga., April.—Reports received from fertilizer companies indicate that the Southern farmer fell a good deal short of using as much fertilizers at planting time this year as usual. Several reasons are assigned. One is that the farmers waited for the price of fertilizers to fall with the expectation of using them in greater quantities than the usual amount as side applications to the growing crops.

It seems that the practice of side application of fertilizers is quite commonly followed by successful Southern farmers. In fact, the Williamson method of growing corn that is popular in the coastal plains region of the South, provides that no fertilizer be applied except as side applications to the corn crop.

On the question of side applications of fertilizers, J. N. Harper, director of the Soil Improvement Committee and recognized authority on agricultural methods of the South, says, that there are more than the usual advantages this year in favor of side applications. The reason is apparently favorable to giving good response to fertilizers.

A word of caution is, however, sounded by Mr. Harper. He says that the side applications should be made early. Late applications to cotton will only prolong the growth of the plant and favor the boll weevil. He says that it will be better to make both the side applications of complete fertilizers and the nitrogen top dressing within six weeks after planting, where the boll weevil is present.

For corn, he states that side applications are quite generally made too late to get the best results. On clay loam or heavy soils he advises a side application and nitrogen dressing when the corn is from knee to waist high. For sandy or light soils, he says that side applications can be made later, that is, when the corn is waist to shoulder high, but before it begins to bunch to tassels.

Mr. Harper says that care must be taken to use only readily available forms of fertilizer so that the growing plants can utilize them in promoting rapid growth and development of fruit.

The fertilizer should contain phosphoric acid in the form of acid phosphate. This is the main element for hastening maturity. The fertilizer should also contain nitrogen and potash in the readily available form. Nitrogen promotes the growth of the stalk and leaves and potash strengthens the plant and helps fill out the fruit.

A top dressing of sulfate of ammonia or nitrate of soda is quite commonly made, and, according to Mr. Harper, it should follow closely after the second application of fertilizer, and within the periods of cotton and corn growth which he mentions above.

Measure of Success.

It isn't the cut of the clothes that you wear,
Nor the stuff out of which they are made,
Though chosen with taste and fastidious care,
And it isn't the price that you paid;
It isn't the size of your pile in the bank,
Nor the number of acres you own,
It isn't a question of prestige or rank,
Nor of sinew and muscle and bone;
It isn't the servants that come at your call,
It isn't the things you possess,
Whether many or little—or nothing at all,
It's service that measures success.

It isn't a question of name, or of length
Of an ancestral pedigree,
Nor a question of mental vigor and strength,
Nor a question of social degree,
It isn't a question of city or town,
Nor a question of doctrine or creed,
It isn't a question of fame or renown,
Nor a question of valorous deed,
But he who makes somebody happy each day,
And he who gives heed to distress,
Will find satisfaction the richest of pay,
For it's service that measures success.

"TREATMENT by a Famous French Specialist" is the title of a striking cartoon in a recent issue of the Baltimore Sun. In this cartoon the artist has done more, with a few well directed pen strokes, to portray the situation at Washington than the most labored editorial could possibly do. How the voters repudiated the Wilsonian scheme for entangling this country in the meshes of European politics through the League of Nations Covenant is still fresh in memory. Likewise, is the recollection of what hopes of an early conclusion of peace and a complete severance of this country from the embroilments of the old world were built upon Harding's senatorial record and his campaign promises. But the disappointment of Harding's change of front and consequent failure to measure up to the country's hopes and expectations is not without some reason and deserving of thought at this time. The disappointment had its beginning when he appointed Herbert Hoover, a foreigner in every thing except the accident of birth, and Charles E. Hughes, a Wall Street lawyer in close touch with the financial interests of that unsavory quarter, to responsible positions in his cabinet. This became more intensified when the sinister influence of Rene Viviani, a recent arrival from France at Washington, began to manifest itself in the changed attitude of Harding on this country's foreign policy. Now to the cartoon. The cartoonist represents Harding dragging a number of badly battered "irreconcilable" senators into the presence of the Frenchman, who, with a bland smile of contentment, is applying "treaty salve" to their bruises. Behind him stand Hughes and Hoover exchanging sinister whispers. Could any thing be more expressive of the change of attitude at Washington or more accurately portray the characters responsible for the change that threatens to blast the hopes of the country for disentanglement from European affairs, and defeat the almost unanimous verdict of the ballot box last fall? How is it that this country has fallen so low that foreigners must be imported to tell us how to run our affairs? When will we heed the admonition of the Father of His Country and "put none but Americans on guard?"

Don't Sacrifice Your Cotton

Leading Bankers, Cotton Buyers, Farmers and Merchants met in convention in Memphis, Tenn., Dec., 1920; and after discussing all phases of the cotton question, decided the remedy for relief was through acreage reduction, recommending 50 per cent.

The Federal Farm Bureau, a nationwide organization, has put on a similar campaign for cotton acreage reduction. The Commissioners of Agriculture of the South have done and are now doing similar work, stressing it with all the emphasis possible.

The leading cotton men of New Orleans, in full page ads in Southern papers, expressing the sentiment of all dealers, appeal to the southern farmers for at least 50 per cent reduction.

Bankers, Cotton Men, Merchants, and even the spinning industries, realizing the financial condition of the South and the United States, know that bankruptcy and ruin are sure to follow the cotton industries, if this word of warning is not heeded. It is conceded the economic solution for our financial ills lies in our acreage reduction.

No prospect exists now for rehabilitating these foreign currencies to normal in the near future, hence it is apparent the purchasing power of Europe for buying our cotton will be crippled for some time.

HOLD COTTON.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will issue its total Acreage report early in June. If the decrease is small the advance will be similar, but if large, we may expect a good price to follow.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

The foregoing tells you the efforts made to protect ourselves from ruin. While we can not control the market, we can, by acreage reduction, control the output, make a 20 cent price or accept 3 to 5 cents as a result of our folly.

AVOID MISTAKES IN POISONING BOLL WEEVIL

Weevils Can Be Poisoned With Profit.

The United States Department of Agriculture, through its boll weevil experts, Profs. B. R. Coad and T. P. Cassidy, have issued a statement, a part of which is entitled "Where It Will Pay You to Poison." This part is as follows:

It will pay to poison—
If the weevils are really injuring your crop seriously, and

If your land is sufficiently fertile to yield at least one-half bale per acre with weevil injury eliminated, and

If your farming organization is such that you feel assured that the poison applications will be made at the right time and in the right manner, and

If you are willing to spend the full amount necessary to provide an adequate supply of dusting machinery and poison.

The general gains from weevil poisoning under average, fairly favorable conditions seem to be from 200 to 400 pounds of seed cotton per acre, but, owing to variations in degree of weevil injury it is not safe to expect much more than the lower figure.

Consequently, you should not poison if the cost of the calcium arsenate, the cost of labor to apply it, and the depreciation on the dusting machines will total more per acre than the current value of 100 pounds of seed cotton.

Hand guns should be figured as depreciating 100 per cent in a season and the larger machines about 25 per cent. Do It Right Or Not At All

Many valuable lessons have been gained from the recent expansion of commercial weevil poisoning. It has again been shown that the boll weevil can be poisoned with profit if conditions are favorable and if proper methods are used, but it has been emphasized anew that unfavorable conditions and improper methods can lead only to failure. A survey of the poisoning by farmers in 1920 shows that an unfortunately large proportion were not properly informed as to the conditions under which they should poison and the methods they should pursue. As a result there were many unnecessary failures.

RE ELECTED SUPERIN-TENDENT 1921-'22 TERM

J. D. HOWELL
The School Board has again placed the destiny of Hondo High in the hands of Supt. Howell. This was done just after the last edition went to press.
We are advised that Supt. Howell has accepted the position and intends to remain with Hondo High.

In doing this the School Board has made a wise selection, as proved by Mr. Howell's noteworthy work done in the past two years. His untiring energy has brought the school up to the highest standard any school of this size has ever enjoyed. Two years ago Hondo High possessed only six units of affiliation with the State University. It was then necessary for a graduate of this school to spend a year in a preparatory school before entering any of the Universities and Colleges. Now a graduate can enter any school in the State without being harassed with entrance examinations or conditional work.

The board has also followed the wishes of the student body. Every student in school recognizes Mr.
Howell as possessing exceptional ability in school management, and he has won the respect and friendship of all. We are glad that we can heartily congratulate the board on its selection.

At the same meeting the following faculty was elected: Principal, Guy
T. Newton; History, Miss Ruth Crawford; Spanish, Miss Jewel Black;
Sixth Grade, Miss Bess Brucks; Fifth
Grade, Miss Gertrude Reilly; Fourth
Grade, Mrs. Ed. Cameron; Third
Grade, Miss Willie Fiy; Second Grade,
Miss Amanda Smith; First Grade
Miss Lena Stone.

Tack in Boy's Throat for More
Than Eighteen Months Taken
Out at a Local Sanitarium.

More than a year and a half ago little Richard Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jennings, 2218 San Jacinto street, developed a cough which at times was very violent and which steadily grew worse.

Treatment for various diseases which would provoke a cough was administered without any relief. A few days ago the father of the boy decided there was something lodged in his son's throat. X ray pictures were made and a dark spot appeared at the entrance to one of the lad's lungs.

Saturday morning Dr. Edward H.
Cary operated on the boy, and in one of the most unique operations in local surgery, brought forth a large tack which it is supposed the boy swallowed more than eighteen months ago.
The tack was lodged right at the entrance to the left lung and at times would work crosswise and cut off the air passage to the lung. When it would do this the lad would have violent coughing spells which would continue until the tack was moved around lengthwise.

To perform the operation the little patient was suspended in the air by special equipment. The probing for the tack lasted more than two hours.
The boy is getting along nicely and is expected to be out of danger in a few days.—Dallas News.

The sufferer referred to in the above extract is the youngest brother of our fellow townsman, Mr. Ray L. Jennings, to whom the successful operation brought great relief and the confident belief that his brother will soon be enjoying robust health.

WELL KNOWN AS MOSES' POOL

Is Believed to Be That Mentioned in the Bible in Connection With Great Law Giver.

In the Egyptian desert, about ten miles east of Suez, is situated a picturesque pool known as "Moses' Well." This is believed to be the well mentioned in the Bible, where Moses, at the bidding of the Lord, cast a branch into the bitter waters, and they were sweetened. Set in a deep grove of date-palms and pomegranate trees, the well is a dark, calm, mysterious looking pool, faithfully reflecting the palms which fringe its edges. The scene at sunrise, when the first rays strike the still water, is exquisite beyond description.

Attempts to identify various natural beauties and locations with mentions or descriptions as given in the Bible have always been difficult, owing to the fact that the records of the rulers of Egypt at the time of the captivity of the Jews were destroyed by rulers that came into power immediately afterward. The motive was jealousy, and a determination to wipe from the minds of the people any recollections for rulers gone.

WAS VICE PRESIDENT AT 36

John Cabell Breckenridge of Kentucky the Youngest Man Ever to Hold the High Office.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for vice president, was asked whether, if elected at thirty-eight, he would be the youngest vice president of the United States. He did not know, but hoped some of his friends would look the matter up.

John Cabell Breckenridge was elected vice president on the Democratic ticket with James Buchanan in 1856. He assumed office March 4, 1857, when he was thirty-six years, one month and fourteen days old. When Breckenridge completed his term he was candidate for President as representative of the slave-holding interests, but was defeated by Lincoln. The same year he was elected to the United States senate, but soon afterward joined the Confederate army. From January to April, 1865, he was secretary of war in the cabinet of Jeff Davis. He died in Lexington, Ky., May 17, 1875.

HAD VISITOR OF DISTINCTION

Small Wonder That Acquaintances of Indianapolis Man Evincd Surprise at the Sign Posted.

Not long ago a little Indianapolis girl had the whooping-cough and greatly enjoyed the distinction given the disease by the sign, "Whooping-Cough Within," so much so, indeed, that she wept when it was taken down. A week or two later her father, confined to the house by a sudden and painful attack of the gout, noticed that the passers-by were manifesting an unusual interest in the front porch. Hobbling out on his crutches, he discovered, tied to the railing, a huge brown cardboard placard, plainly of his daughter's manufacture, with the inscription in black, sprawling letters, "Gout Within." And he wasn't German, either.—Indianapolis Star.

Model Husband.

"Yes," said Mrs. Meek at the Woman's club, "John makes a model husband. If I never cook anything but what he likes, if I never want him to go anywhere he doesn't want to, and never ask him for money, why, he is the easiest man to get along with that I ever saw. Of course, he is a little funny about his mending, and I often have to do his silk shirts over a few times, and he has a wee prejudice against my entertaining any of my own friends or relatives, but we all have our little failings, and, taking it all in all—and you can say what you please—I call my John an ideal husband."—Life.

The Chinese laundry had ruined his ears. Their saw-edge was cutting his neck. Besides, they looked disgraceful. He thought it was time to complain, because they had been laundered only a few times.

"See here, Lee Sam," he began. "I can't have this! You are simply ruining every collar I possess! Why don't you take a little more pains? What are you going to do about it?"

The laundryman looked at him without emotion, and said: "You buy more cedar!"

Then There Was More of It.

"What are you little boys quarreling about, my son?" asked the father coming in the gate.

"Why, this boy from next door said I was as homely as you, papa," explained the young man.

"Oh! And that's what started the trouble, was it?"

"No, papa, the trouble didn't start until I said that I wasn't as homely as you!"—Yonkers Statesman.

HIMALAYAS IN SECOND PLACE

Explorations in Tibet Have Revealed Existence of a More Massive Mountain Range.

Among the greatest results achieved by the Hedin explorations in Tibet was the discovery of a continuous mountain chain, 2,000 miles long, stretching east and west, and which, taken as a whole, is the most massive range on the crust of the earth.

Its average height above sea level is greater than that of the Himalayas, and although its peaks are from 4,000 to 5,000 feet lower than Mount Everest, it passes average 3,000 feet higher than those of the Himalayas.

The eastern and western parts of this range were known before, but the central and highest part, in Bongha, was unexplored previous to Doctor Hedin's visit. He crossed ten passes in the range.

Served Him Right.

"The average American may have a nasal accent," said Myron T. Herick, at a dinner in Cleveland, "but at least he doesn't ape the accent of the English. Is there anything so terrible as an American trying to put on English accent—trying to pretend that he's an English swell?"

"An American of this type got lost in the Strand one day, and he sauntered up to a hobbie and said:

"I say, me mahn, don't you know, is this the way to Westminster Abbey, what?"

"The hobbie gave him a scornful look.

"Ja, mein herr," he said curtly; "ja."

His Choice.

He was a small Galloway boy, and his mother was reproving him at the breakfast table for restlessness.

"Try to behave better, John," she said; "you know it is only very good boys who go to heaven."

Said John: "Dae coos gang tae heaven, mother?"

Instantly came Marshall's retort: "When it's a in-a-door bed!"

"What a wonderful physiognomy that actress has."

"She looked at me just as if she wanted to swear."
"I see, sort of a cursory glance."

The Result.
"The actress they are pushing so is a scream." "Maybe that is why they are crying her up."

Step Forward, Please.
"Forge to the front, young man."
"Eh?" "And help the street car companies carry more passengers."
